

Kemp Bernard Clemen

October 26, 1920 - March 12, 2019

Kemp Bernard Clemen, age 98 of Nokesville, Virginia died Tuesday, March 12, 2019 at English Meadows Senior Living Community, Warrenton, Virginia, surrounded by his son and three daughters. Kemp was a graduate of Osbourn High School, Manassas. Kemp served in Europe as an Army Medic during WWII, after completing his medic school training in Beaumont, Texas. He returned home on the Queen Elizabeth II as the war ended, and married his Beloved Ruby Jones, wife of 61 years. Kemp and Ruby loved the land that made up 232 acers of Tumbledown Farm, on which they raised a family of four, and provided a home, care, and guidance for countless other family members and friends, during their time together. Kemp's passion for the outdoors, agriculture, and his faith, enabled him to farm for more than 60 years. As one of the founders of Prince William Veterans Farm Club, organizers and promoters of The Prince William County Fair, (1949), Kemp knew the importance of educating people about farming and agriculture. He supported and encouraged youth participation in the educational programs.... Future Farmers of America and 4H. Over many years, he welcomed numerous student classes to his dairy farm and considered it an honor to be a part of teaching young men and women the value of local farming and its benefits around the world.

Kemp was a lifelong member of Asbury United Methodist Church, Nokesville, Va. where he was Chair of the Administrative Board for 19 years. He also contributed to Asbury's Christian Education programs, serving as Lay Leader and Sunday School Teacher over several decades.

Kemp was a devoted husband, father, grandfather, great grandfather and friend to all who knew and loved him. He was preceded in death by his wife, Ruby (Jones); parents, Theodore and Alice (Wray) Clemen: three brothers and one sister. He is survived by four children, Catherine Clemen of Warrenton, VA., Linda Simms of Nokesville, VA., son, Burnard Clemen of Ford, VA. and Lillian Jacobs of The Plains, VA, and sister Tracy Robertson, Manassas,VA.

Kemp is remembered by all who knew him, for his honesty, and helping his neighbors unconditionally.

The family will receive friends from 6:00-8:00 pm, Monday, March 18, 2019 at Pierce Funeral Home, 9609 Center Street, Manassas, Va. where funeral services will be held at 12:00 pm, March 19, 2019 with Pastor Claire Miller officiating. Interment will follow at Quantico National Cemetery, Triangle, VA.

In lieu of flowers, expressions of sympathy may take the form of contributions to: Virginia Foundation for Agriculture in the Classroom, PO Box, 27552, Richmond, VA. 23261..... or Fisher House Foundation, 12300 Twin Brook Parkway, Suite 410, Rockville, MD. 20852 – In memory of Kemp Clemen.

many loving fond memories and they all involve your beautiful smile. I never saw this wonderful man without this smile on his face, no matter what. Men like this are hard to come by ... he and grandma Ruby took me and my brothers in as one of their own grandchildren, and we were never treated any differently. He taught by example and left behind a legacy of love, kindness, and a hard work ethic that I will cherish.

“ I am blessed to have known Kemp for over 55 years. As his Son-in-Law, He and his Beloved Rudy accepted me as family immediately and that never changed. In all of the passing years, never a harsh word nor friction of any sort between us. For that I am proud. Many people have been a part of my life in now over 70 years, but none I have known have been the "complete" man as Kemp. His faith, that he shared by living it. His love for country, by respecting and believing in America and what it stands for, even with it's flaws. His support for the military and the rule of law spoke of his integrity and Patriotism. He loved the land, that he tilled, planted, faithfully anticipated a harvest, and reaped the delightful rewards of his labor, whether the harvest was scarce or bountiful. Kemp's commonsense and realistic approach to life, was one of the proper attitude towards the events of each day, always positive, as in one of his memorable quotes, "you play the hand you are dealt". Being well read and informed, he knew in's and out's of business. His understanding of economics, coupled with balancing priorities of faith, family, business and relationships, allowed him to make prudent decisions in all areas of life, creating a "successful" man that most could only dream of being. He was not only a husbandman, he was an organizer, leader, optimist, friend, doctor, mentor, and lover of people. Kemp's love for his family though, was first and foremost in all of his years. Family however, included countless friends and acquaintances, extending far beyond the Clemens'/Jones'. His respect and care for those he met, made him a person that everyone wished to know, and felt a special connection to this well loved man. Not only his four children, but many called Kemp and Ruby's home , their home, for periods of time, as he and Ruby cared for anyone who needed a hand up. Kemp, in my years of knowing him, never spoke of a Legacy, at least that I am aware. I think that his passion for farming, love of his Creator and family, respect for all those he met, and the joy he saw and lived throughout his life, left a Legacy that few could ever hope for, as the "complete" man. And, oh yes, his love for laughter, will be with all of us who listened to his stories and enjoyed his company. Rest in Peace Kemp. You will be with us always.

“ I can't begin to say all the good moments my family shared with Kemp, Ruby and family. To speak of Kemp is to remember a .friendly face coming up the driveway to care for his crops or milkers. Or he and Ruby tending their garden. Sweet corn now there's a memory of generosity. What ever good you can think of you could find it in Kemp.

I'm sorry I did not get to see him in his later years. He will be remembered.
