“ *I imagine a place in heaven
A place to rest
after a long day's work is done,
There is a porch and a swing,
Shaded by large pecan trees,
And Bert is swinging there,
With Joe, Phil, Marcelle, Cecelia, Clem, and Ralph, Anthers is much laughter, joy, and love.*

“ I remember many sunny afternoons while visiting the farm and Uncle Bert taking all of us kids to the pond with huge black rubber inner tubes to float around in... no one wanted to actually touch the muddy bottom! We loved it and always looked forward to our visits to the Rollins' with fresh peanuts right from the vine and a wonderful swing on the front porch - always lots of fun with our cousins. The last time I saw Bert, at the 4th of July some years ago he looked dapper in his "Panama hat" and white suite and shoes and was in great spirits. His infamous sunny disposition will be missed. Thoughts are with you all. Sending you warm wishes from Norway.
