“ When you truly love someone, that never changes in your heart. I was blessed to love Amanda when she was a tiny baby and a spunky toddler. I loved her like she was my own, reading to her, playing peek-a-boo and any silly game that we could find. We took her with us on her first beach trip and she loved us too. One of my fondest memories was a time that I was sick and she said over and over "poor Kelli" in her toddler voice because she knew I was not well. When she moved away, I was heartbroken. I never stopped thinking of her or missing her. She was such a special little girl and I will carry her, as I have since her birth, in my heart forever. Rest in Peace Mandy. You were loved by so many.

“ I don't know where to begin! You were such an important person in my life 7-9th grade. When I moved to Virginia from Wisconsin we connected almost right away. Those 3 years seem like a life time though, we had some pretty crazy times. Over the years I've thought of you and wished you were doing well. I remember our trip to NYC, Myrtle Beach and our many adventures around northern VA!!! "My eyebrows are gone" I still cry laugh when I think of that walk! You know something funny, the gazebo down from James house is still marked up with our names. All these years later I took my kids down there and was shocked that it was still there. We have so many memories. So many sleepovers and all nighters 3 way calling and poem writing! I was so shocked when I answered the phone in 2003 and you were on the other end of the phone. You reminded me that I knew I would marry Alirio the first day I saw him. I look back and laugh at how stupid we were. I am happy you're no longer in pain but I wish you could have healed here on earth. I know you're watching over everyone now. Rest easy Amanda.
