“ Well sis we have been through alot together over the years, some good and alot of not so good. But we survived through alot of pain and suffering. We were there for each other when our babies were born, watched them grow up, get married and have children of their own and great grand babies. Wow life is too short. We even managed to live together in the same house, now that was a miracle we didn't kill each. Lol We had or little spats but once again we survived. I am going to miss our Fourth Of July parties with our families and friends. We had a blast, even if they did try to set my car on fire, ha ha. Well sis it's time to say good bye for now but we will be together again in a better place. You are suffering no more and in God's hands now. I love you and will miss you so much. Love Maggie

“ Our deepest sympathies to Earl and Sherry, in the loss of his mother, Ann. My husband and I met Ann years ago and we always thought she was the nicest lady. She was always laughing and enjoying herself. She took great pleasure in two of her youngest grandchildren, Destiny and Summer. I remember she was always bringing them gifts only things little girls liked. We last saw Ann at Earl and Sherry's wedding in June. Ann was really enjoying herself at the reception. I know she will be greatly missed by you, her children, and the grandchildren, especially two little girls. :(
