

Barbara Ann Cornwell

June 26, 1948 - March 1, 2021

Barbara Ann Cornwell of Manassas, Virginia, passed away March 1, 2021, due to a stroke. Barb was born in Warrenton, Virginia, on June 26, 1948, to the late Emory Lee Cornwell and Mary Augustine “Gussie” Cornwell. Barb Cornwell graduated from Osbourn High School in Manassas in 1966 and then attended James Madison University, where she received her degree in English in 1970. She went on to get her Masters of Education from George Mason University. Barb taught public school at Stonewall Jackson High School (now Unity Reed) in Manassas from 1970 until 2012. After retiring from teaching in 2012, Ms. Cornwell cared for her mother until her passing in 2013. In 2015, Barb became somewhat of a nanny to her great nephew Graham.

Surviving Ms. Cornwell are her brother and sisters: Ronnie Cornwell (Anna Marie), Donna Cornwell, and Debbie Vandyke. She also has several nieces, a nephew, great nieces, and great nephews.

Barb Cornwell loved teaching and helping others. She was a big music fan, especially Jimmy Buffett; and she loved going to his concerts. Barb loved the beach and vacationed at the Outer Banks for many years. She had an appreciation for the outdoors, flowers, and playing and working in the yard.

A graveside service to celebrate Barb’s life will be held on March 9, 2021, at 12:00 p.m. at Stonewall Memory Gardens in Manassas, VA. In lieu of flowers, expressions of condolences and donations can be made to the Barbara Cornwell Memorial Scholarship at www.cfnova.org/barbara-cornwell-scholarship. Donations can also be made to Capital Caring Health, Philanthropy, 3180 Fairview Park Drive, Falls Church, Virginia 22042.

The family expresses its deep appreciation to the healthcare providers in the Neurology units at Inova Fairfax Hospital and at the Capital Caring Health Adler Center.

“ I was blessed to have Ms. Cornwall as a teacher many years ago. I will never forget her teaching us how to compose a paper. She inspired me so much, that I made English one of my majors in college. My heartfelt condolences to you all.

“ Barbara was an amazing woman: witty, caring, intelligent, hilarious, and kind. She taught two of our children at SJHS and I was lucky to be in her class with a student I was supporting. Our children remember her well and we all loved her smile and fascinating classes! You are in our prayers and will be missed dear friend.

Sincerely,
Ann Gillespie

“ We met “ Aunt Barb” while visiting our nephew Adrian, Vickie and Graham and were instantly drawn to Barb’s love and connection with Graham. Our visit with Barb was brief, but during that time we watched her patiently play and answer Graham’s many toddler questions and experienced first hand her gift as an educator! She was a beautiful part of my nephew’s family and we were honored to know her💙

“ Oh, what fun we had! Barb was a wonderful colleague, teacher, and friend. I will miss her sense of humor, her love for Jimmy Buffett (her room was decorated in his honor), her sweater collection, her dedication to teaching, her sense of humor, and most of all, her many kindnesses--too many to enumerate here. Goodbye, sweet Barbara, and "flights of angels sing thee to they rest."

“ Ms Cornwell was my English teacher my senior year at SJHS in 1990. Her quiet brilliance ran like a thread through the fabric of my brain and her easy humor and charm made her class one of my favorites. When I was an undergraduate at Southeastern College studying to teach English, I needed a place to do my student teaching. I immediately thought of Ms. Cornwell and SJHS. I showed up at her classroom one afternoon and asked her if she could take me on as her student teacher. She was thrilled to see me and so gracious. We spent a lot of time together that semester back in 1995. She inspired me and gave me the tools to turn that inspiration into a career.
I have been teaching for the past 26 years, and I credit my friend Barbara. Thanks, Barb, for your many gifts. Your impact has created ripples that will continue to expand and grow off into the infinite.
Eternal life.
All my love.

“ I shall always remember fondly the gang of Stonewall teachers who gathered in mid August in Duck, N.C. It was always fun even though a new school year would be starting soon. Rest in peace, my friend.

“ Ms Cornwell was my English teacher at Stonewall my senior year during sixth period. Reading Shakespeare during the last class of the day was exhausting but Ms Cornwell made it fun. I saw her many years after graduation and let her know that my although my appreciation for literature was not quite a top priority in her class, I later became very fond of it in college and give her full credit for my love of writing. Her memories will live on in the hearts and minds of her students.

My mom taught at Stonewall along with Barb and the two were great friends. They often hung out, sometimes at our house. I had the rare opportunity to know her not just as a teacher, but as a person. She was HILARIOUS. She would come to our house dressed as Santa at Christmas time, even after we were too old to believe and she'd leave me and my sister in stitches. Once, she and her sister came over dressed in tacky prom-style dresses with huge Christmas ornaments as earrings, just to make us laugh. Very fond memories of this amazing lady. My best wishes to her family.

I attended SJHS from 1971-1974. I had Ms. Cornwell for one of my classes. If my memory serves me correctly (which isn't always the case) I remember it being some type of music class. I believe we listened to and explored the lyrics of a few musical legends. I know Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young were among the topics. Nothing but nice memories of Ms. Cornwell. She was always one of my academic shining lights and trust me, there weren't many. May she Rest in Peace.

When I arrived at SJHS in 1986 my classroom was next to Barb's. She was a great colleague and mentor, and then we became great friends. Trips to conferences. Vacations in Duck. Lunches with friends. Such good memories and such sadness at her loss.

Barbara, I and Pam Quinn all started as new teachers in Sept. of 1970. Fresh out of college, we lived in our first apartments in Deer Park on Liberia Ave. and often commuted together to school (the old Stonewall now the Middle School). It was a far different time and I remember the fun, joy and enthusiasm we shared as we worked our way into become true teachers. I am so sorry to hear Barbara is gone. She was a kind, funny, sincere and compassionate woman, and I treasure the memories of our early years together at Stonewall.
