“ Dear sweet Aunt Barbara. You were a force of nature! I always enjoyed, when you visited, because I knew we would be going to the beach!! Perhaps that is where I 'picked-up' my love of shelling. You always had a smile and were happy. I wrote the following for you.

Waves Good-Bye

Let me go like a butterfly chasing the wind

My spirit, my soul back to where my begin

Then, again, my journey will go

Far beyond whoever knows

The sky, the clouds, the stars

Far beyond Pluto and Mars

You will always be with me now

Forever we will remember how

Life was full, life was fun

Because forever love is one

I know you will be shelling on the most exquisite beach in the universe. I will miss you.

love to you

“ Farewell, dear sister - You always loved to travel and now you've made your last trip. I know you had a great welcome home! But you will be missed your joy of life and love of family were strong factors until Alzheimer's took over. You were and are a great daughter/sister/cousin/niece/mother/aunt/grandmother/great-grandmother/friend/employee. You've had a full, joyous life and have earned a rest. Rest In Peace. Lovingly, Shirley

“ My memories of Aunt Barbara are all happy ones. She was almost always on vacation when visiting and who's not happy on vacation? Beach sand, salt water, sun burn, all good stuff! But seriously, I have always known her to be smiling and laughing, seeing silliness and family as important things to celebrate. On October, I will celebrate her. Then I will forever miss her.
