

Danny Lee Cook

June 27, 1953 - October 30, 2025

Danny Cook, 72, of Goldvein, Virginia, formerly of Manassas, passed away peacefully on October 30, 2025.

Danny was a man of strong character, quiet strength, and unwavering dedication. His will and work ethic were unmatched, qualities he proudly passed down to his children. Danny was a great man who was firm in his convictions, yet humble and kind at heart.

For 32 years, Danny faithfully served the City of Manassas, where his commitment, reliability, and hard work left a lasting impression on his colleagues and community. His pride in his work reflected his belief in doing every job with integrity and excellence.

A lifelong car enthusiast, Danny found great joy in working on his vehicles, especially his treasured 1965 Sting Ray and 1959 Apache. Whether under the hood or behind the wheel, he was happiest when surrounded by family, friends, and the hum of an engine.

Danny's greatest pride and joy, however, was his family. He was a devoted husband, father, and grandfather who provided steady guidance, endless support, and unconditional love. He was always there, whether to lend a hand, share advice, or offer a comforting shoulder.

He is survived by his loving wife, Bonnie; his children, Ricky (Tracy), Danny, and Christina; his grandchildren, Savannah (Justin) and Gavin; his cherished great-grandchildren, Everleigh and Mason; and his brother, Doug Cook. He is also remembered by many extended family members and dear friends who will miss him deeply.

Danny was preceded in death by his parents, Dallas and Beulah Cook; his brother, David Cook; and his beloved daughter, Kimberly Cook.

A viewing will be held Sunday, November 9, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., followed by a funeral service to celebrate Danny's life on Monday, November 10, 2025, at 11:00 a.m. at Pierce Funeral Home in Manassas, Virginia.

Danny Cook's legacy of love, laughter, and strength will continue to live on in the hearts of all who knew him.
