With sadness in our hearts, we announce the passing of Daulat Ram Sahni, a beloved diplomat, family patriarch, and cherished friend. He was born on March 13, 1933, and peacefully departed from this world on February 27, 2024.

His family and friends described him as a man of the world who was ready to give love and blessings to everyone. He always supported his family and friends because we were all loved ones to him. He wanted the very best for all of us and was never shy in expressing his pride.

Daulat Ram Sahni led a life adorned with significant accomplishments and unwavering devotion. A self-made man from Peshawar who survived the India-Pakistan partition, he went on to make New Delhi his home. He sold balloons on the side of the road to earn money for college – he always exemplified resilience and strength in the face of adversity. As a diplomat for the Indian Embassy, he served his country with distinction, representing its values across the globe. His dedication to fostering international relations and diplomacy left an indelible mark on those he encountered. He extended his compassion to others by supporting refugees during the Vietnam War, and because of his perseverance, he was the last Indian diplomat to leave the warring country.

Beyond his professional endeavors, Daulat Ram Sahni was the pillar of strength for his family with his tireless strength, endless support, and never-ending love. His daily walks were not just routine, but a testament to his commitment in building lasting relationships, touching the lives of many with his warmth and kindness.

In his leisure, Daulat Ram Sahni indulged his passions as a world traveler, avid swimmer, a devoted Hindu, and well-informed Indian and global citizen. He approached life with an open heart and found joy in simple pleasures, whether engaging in a game of cards, sharing laughter with cherished friends, and watching cricket.

Charismatic, noble, and honest, Daulat Ram Sahni had an innate ability to illuminate every room he entered, leaving smiles in his wake. His storytelling prowess captivated listeners, and his desire to create cherished memories with loved ones knew no bounds.

In his last days, he was surrounded by the love and light he so generously shared with the world. To honor his memory, let us carry forward the values he embodied, spreading love and kindness wherever we go.

He is survived by his two daughters, Lalima Sahni and Renu Sahni, grandson Anand Sharma, and granddaughter Tamanna Sahni.

Daulat Ram Sahni leaves behind a legacy of love, wisdom, and compassion. Though he may have departed from this world, his blessings and love remain eternally with us, guiding us through life's journey. May his soul rest in peace, and his spirit live on in the hearts of all who had the privilege of knowing him.
