

David Albert Nutile

February 3, 1942 - September 20, 2022

David Albert Nutile, age 80 of Alexandria, VA died recently at his residence.

He was born on February 3, 1942 in Trumbull, Connecticut, son of the Albert and Helen Nutile. After receiving his Masters Degree he was a computer scientist for Navy Research Lab.

He leaves no immediate survivors.

A funeral mass will be celebrated on Tuesday, October 25, 2022 at 10:30 AM in St. Mary of Sorrows Historic Church in Fairfax Station and burial will take place immediately after in the historic Church Cemetery.

Tribute Wall

JM

“ It is very fitting that the photo shows Dave with a plate of delicious-looking food. He spent carefully but spared no expense on fine food. Mostly, he cooked for himself and was very proud of his Friday salmon specialties, but when he went out to dine with friends, he spared no expense for his choices. He loved good food almost as much as he loved golf, and that’s saying something!

Joe La Marca - June 02, 2025 at 03:23 PM

SN

“ David was my half-brother, my father’s son. Although we did not grow up together, he spent summers with us, and we visited back and forth when older. David was a senior research scientist for the Navy. When I went to see him at his office in Washington, D.C., I was surprised to see how “empty” it seemed. Turned out that David worked on high-level security defense projects, and he had spent a couple hours removing top secret maps and materials for me to visit his office! Another time, he came to see me in San Francisco with several Naval Officers in tow. They were headed out to sea the next day to conduct a research mission for the U.S. Navy, and as the Senior Scientist, David was their Commanding Officer! But that did not put a damper on the evening, as we had a delightful time. Although we kept in touch, the last time I saw David was at my mother’s 90th birthday celebration in Mobile, Alabama in February 2010. It was Mardi Gras and it was wonderful to celebrate with the entire family. David gave my mom an especially thoughtful gift...a digital album of beautiful photos of my mother and our father through the years. I will always remember David for creating such a treasured gift. God bless him.

Susan Nutile - October 05, 2022 at 03:05 PM