Shannon and family, I am so very sorry for your loss. It's the end of an era with both Dennis and Sam gone, but I am grateful for the memories of family gatherings and shared connections over the years. I was greatly comforted by you and Dennis and Candy, Darren and Chris so kindly and gently reaching out to me after Sam's death, and hope that I can be there for you in a similar way.

Dennis was a caring, intelligent and talented man. Above all else there was never any doubt about his love and devotion to his family. He cherished you, Shannon, and his heart and pride grew as each of your children and grandchildren came along. He fought a valiant battle with health issues over the years, and you were always there for him. Dennis will always be with you, silently guiding and protecting you from above. Remember that he did not leave this earth alone, for a piece of each of your hearts went with him.

Sadly as his transition to the heavenly world of peace begins, your journey of grief is starting. You will find your way, for there is great strength and love within you. All of you are in my prayers and constantly in my thoughts and heart. God bless. With all my love, Lynn
