“ I will never forget the adventures that my sister, Alison, myself and Diana embarked upon. We had so much fun together growing up all through until after high school. My Aunt Mary, Diana's mom, often had projects for us to engage in and keep us "out of trouble", lol. I remember buying Aunt Mary at Diana's suggestion at the florist in Lakewood (we walked all the way there) for a bouquet of daisies and then coming home and dyeing them multicolor with food color (another one of Diana's creative ideas) to present to my Aunt. The toe socks Diana wore during the early 70s, and always dear Diana was a fashion plate!!!! She has been a lovely, lovable individual to call my dearest cousin. I truly believe that she walks beside me (and keeps me in line, hahaaa). God bless you and yours, dear sweet woman of God and because of our Lord, Jesus Christ, you can now rest in the beautiful realm of Heaven and be our ever-watchful, guardian angel whom you will travel with us all and love and protect from not so far away in Heaven. Please look up besides dear father of your, Burt Londahl, but my father Harry who always had an extra special place in his heart for YOU and my mom your Aunt Jean and I hope you connect with my brother Scott (I know you are busy right now!). He always thought of you as one of us "The Girls" and loved you deeply. Fly Diana, soar. Now you know the plan for what God is offering your family and you can finally rest easily. I love and will always love you..... Signed, Your Partner in Silliness (and mischief), Your Cousin Beth Ann. I love you still, kiddo.
