“ My memories of Don began 45+ years ago as a young teenager. In that time Don and Shirley were involved in every major event in my life ups and downs. He was as close to a father figure as I ever had and could not have picked a better one. Just a call to Don and hear him pickup and say Hey Buddy would always make me smile. In those years we fought worked laughed cried drank chewed tobacco fished passed out road tripped and went thru a hurricane together. What I saw during all that was the most selfless man I ever met. He gave more blood than should have been possible. He was ready to help anyone anywhere at anytime and not take a thing in return. He could talk for hours and give advice but never take any. Though I never did I will miss my attempts to change his mind on anything. I have been forever blessed to have known him and his family. My greatest hope is that there is a afterlife and I can once again hear him and his son say HEY BUDDY. Your friend Kevin Coates

“ I was shocked and saddened when I heard of Don's untimely passing last Saturday. I first met Don when he came to work at Koons in Manassas many years ago. Don made friends very easily selling cars and had a loyal following throughout the years. We worked together for 7+ years and even after we both left the car business, we've stayed close friends for over 35 years. I can honestly say, Don will be sadly missed by many. My heart goes out to his wife, daughter, grandchildren and other extended family members. May God extend his hands and accept our beloved Don to eternal Heaven. D.Davenport

“ Our hearts are broken at the passing of our dear friend and neighbor. He was a faithful friend to me and Tom and even more so to my parents. My parents lived across the road from Don and Shirl when I was in high school. Don was always checking in on my mom and dad. When referring to them, I remember him calling them, Mr. and Ms Warren. After my dad died, my mom could always count on Don to call or come and check on her, pick up something from the grocery store or do odd jobs around the house. There was no one that she trusted more than Don for advice or counsel.

After both my parents passed, I moved back home and married my husband Tom. He and I live in that same home right across the road from Don and Shirl. It wasn't until I began my own adult friendship with Don and Shirl, that I would learn of the friendship and love that they had for my parents. As my adult friendship grew, Don became that same faithful friend to me and Tom. We would stand in their driveway or sit on their back porch with him and Shirl.

Don loved his Miller High Life. If I came over and he was drinking one, he'd offer me one. Every time. I'd say, "Don, I never did like the taste of beer" But one day, I guess he wore me down. I finally accepted his offer. And it all went downhill from there. Anyhow, Don and Shirl would share stories of their friendship with my parents and tell of eating watermelon on summer Sundays in my parent's screened in patio. It was only through the telling of those stories, that I came to learn of and appreciate the depth of their love for my parents and my parents' love for them. It was only then, did I learn of the grief and sorrow they felt at each of my parents passing. The love my parents had for them became the same love Tom and I now have for Don and Shirl.

Tom and I will never forget the many times Don demonstrated the same friendship and acts of kindness toward us as he did my parents. The times were countless, as he came over to help with various projects and offered valuable, practical and sometimes money-saving advice. It was at his consistent advisement that we put chimney caps on our chimneys. Not only did he keep recommending it, he climbed on the roof with Tom and helped him install them. His heart to serve others was rare. He may have been my friend for a short 14 years, but he was a friend of my family for over 30.

Don was a rare neighbor. If you were a new neighbor, he would get to know you. He was a helper, a teacher, a coach, and whatever else you needed him to be. One thing was for sure about Don Compton. It was, on rare occasions, he'd receive a lending hand for himself. But, he always had a hand to lend to someone else.

There is a sadness and emptiness in the air on Sinclair Mill Rd. Our neighborhood and our lives will not be the same without Don. He will be greatly missed.

Our hearts and prayers go out to those who love him and who grieve and mourn the loss of this great man.

“ Dear Aunt Shirley and Donna Gail,
I am so sorry to hear of Uncle Don's passing. Talk about a talker, a story teller, and a race car fanatic!!! He was so proud of his children, grandchildren, and most of all, his beautiful "Shirl." Uncle Don was a SURVIVOR! He was a man among men!

You'll be in my thoughts and prayers during this very difficult time. Our family has lost too many this year. He will be missed and he was certainly loved!

I love you all! Prayers are being lifted up.
