“ I am grateful to my mother for always being proud of me, and for some of her endearing qualities that I like to think I inherited from her: she had a wonderful capacity to find happiness in the simple joys of life; she was very tender-hearted and sentimental, open-minded and tolerant, enthusiastic and outgoing. As a child we would cuddle up and she would read me Dr. Seuss; as an adult we would "dish" for hours on the phone long-distance or while sitting on her porch when I would visit from California.

Mom was always so appreciative of my husband (and gave me very valuable advice for my marriage!) and attentive to my daughter. I'm sad she never got to see her three little great-grandsons. They, too, would've benefited from her love and affection.

Go with peace, Mom.

Love,
Beth

“ I have fun memories of my mother-in-law, Mamie. When she last stayed with my wife and me in California she and I would sit on my balcony, drinking coffee and talking about whatever popped into our heads for hours at a time. She was fascinated by the different species of birds that would land in the trees as we talked, and recognized a lot of them that I had only known as "bird" up to that time. I will always remember Mamie, especially those special times just hanging out and talking like there was no tomorrow. I miss you, Mamie, and will always love you.

“ God bless you Mamie. Mamie is what we always called you. I remember good times at Nannie's house where we played cards together. Sundays were fun days with all of the family there. Thinking of all of my family during this time. Love, Brenda
