“ I met Elizabeth at Holy Trinity's Sewing Ministry several years ago. She made the most beautiful bows for the Baptismal bibs given to the infants of our parish. I loved hearing about her family and the love she had for them. Elizabeth will be missed when we have our monthly meetings. My prayers and thoughts are with you. May Our Good Lord bless and keep you in His care.

“ Elizabeth was like a mother to me and my children. I met her in 1992 when I had to 2 babies to take care of. Elizabeth taught me so much about being a good mom. She was wonderful with my children and I ended up having 5. Matthew and David still remember how warm and loving she was to them. I will miss her.

“ Elizabeth was one of the original members of our Holy Trinity Sewing Ministry. Every infant baptized has worn her handiwork. To the Engbert family, thank you for sharing this beautiful lady with us. God Bless.

“ Merle and I didn't spend much time with Liz and Melvin after they moved to Bristow, but we always met for lunch on or about February 18 because Merle and Liz shared a February 18th birthday. Every few months, Liz and I wrote long emails to each other to keep up with what was happening in our families.

I met Liz at a Homemakers club meeting many years ago when we had little children. She was a wonderful mother and loved sharing pictures of her family.

When my father was 89 and I was still working; if Liz was in the neighborhood, she would drop in to visit him and cut his hair. We have lost a wonderful, loving and caring person.

“ I met your mom several times, but really got to know her on Facebook. I lost my mom very young and Liz really provided a lot of comfort and common sense when needed. She was the best parent I have ever met with endless positive energy and creativity. She loved all of you kids and grandkids very much. Your dad was the best boss and one of the smartest people I ever got to work with. Your mom brought the same qualities to being a spouse, parent, grandparent and human being. I will miss her very much. Sending prayers to the whole family. Heaven has gained a most outstanding angel.

“ My deepest sympathy for the entire Engbert family. Mrs. Engbert was truly one of a kind. She loved showing off all her decorations and craft projects but most of all she loved her family very much. I will truly miss her. - Carrie McCall
