“ We are sad to learn of Ferrils passing. He was a good man and fine musician who loved bluegrass music. He was also a master painter who taught me how to paint, tho not a well as he.

The Lord will save me, and we will play my music on stringed instruments all the days of our lives at the house of the LORD.

I just learned of Emory's passing, my heart goes out to the family. I was a co-worker with him at the Capitol Building from 89 to 95 he taught me a lot, and we had lots of fun and laughs. I surely do miss him and my heart goes out to Billy and Gary Brown. Gary Shepherd

“ James and I were so sadden to hear of Emory’s passing. Praying for a special touch of comfort for Ruth and the Family from our Lord this day. We can only imagine what his eyes now see (Our Lord of Lords, in Glory).

I recall how my husband James and I became friends with the Brown family. We will never be able to eat “Hush Puppies” without thinking of Emory. Our friendship began at a church dinner while James and I were munching on the best hush puppies we had ever tasted. There must have been a hundred dishes to choose from, when I spied a large basket of hush puppies and quickly headed in that direction.

I sat down across from a friendly face and began my feast. I told the gentleman, these are the best hush puppies I have ever tasted. He grinned and said he had made the hush puppies. Delish, I told him. I added saying, I should be ashamed of myself. With the bounty of food we have to choose from today, I’m sitting here wishing I had a large bowl of pinto beans to go with these delicious hush puppies, for there were no such beans to be had this day. The gentleman’s expression was in total agreement and he said, “and an onion”. Yes I said, gotta have an onion. We laughed and the friendship connection began. Emory said, from now on when we have a church dinner, you bring the beans and the onion and I’ll make the hush puppies. And so it was. Emory never forgot the pact we made. And we will never forget our dear friend.

Until we meet again, over the rainbow.

Emory and his family always welcomed me and my family to their gatherings on Michigan Ave. His hospitality was impeccable along with his smiles and his cooking! My fondest memory was him handing me a grilled burger, asking me, "how'd ya like that?" I said, "Em, probably THE best burger ever!" He smirkingly smiled and said, "THAT was deer meat!" My first deer burger!

At the end of festivities, he and his family performed Bluegrass that I loved so much watching and listening to their talents of sweet harmony, singing and playing their guitars in his living room as we all gathered around. Our ears were filled of such love of a family that truly loved their passion of entertaining all of us.

Even on fourth of July, he had invited us to the Capital to watch fireworks from a special balcony and private parking at his work. He painted our interior of our house to get us moved in and would not accept payment. The help from him and his son, Gary, was greatly appreciated in helping us make our first house - a "home." His kindness flowed so naturally as his genuine heart of love shined to all those that came in his path. I want to thank him and his family for meaningful memories that will be etched forever in my soul. He was truly THE nicest person on earth! As God gained an Angel in Heaven, Emory was an Angel on Earth who will be missed.

“ My heart is heavy as we must lay my sweet uncle to rest💜 There will certainly be a void in our family gatherings without you😭 I will miss the big smile and big hugs that you would give me with always a sweet compliment 😊 you will always be our kind gentle giant... I love you uncle Ferrell with all my heart.. To my dear auntie Ruth, I'm sure living with you he was fed daily with the word of God..the seeds grew into the godly man he was.. he left behind a loving wife, 3 wonderful loving children and their families, and grandchildren that will carry on his legacy from generations to come. I regret we cannot attend the service, but you all will be in our thoughts and prayers🙏 I love you all so much❤️ Until we meet again Ferrel in heaven... see you later💜🙏 Your niece Brenda Yates Cohen and Kevin Cohen
