“ Harry and Nena were both quite wonderful and I was fortunate to visit with them at their home in Fairfax and in King George. Harry shared some of his WWII experiences with me and he was a key participant in The Vienna Remembers WWII project, which Historic Vienna developed. My favorite time with Harry and Nena was attending a veterans parade in Manassas and having lunch with them afterwards. I am honored to call them friends and will not forget our times together and their fine hospitality.
