“ I'll miss my friend and mentor of many years. Not only was Henry a true gentleman, he was honest in all his business dealings and he never took advantage of anyone, and he was caring and generous. He never let his medical issues dampen his sense of humor. I'll miss our regular lunches where we joked about fixing any number of the country's problems. My thoughts and prayers go to Sue and the family. It was an honor to call Henry my friend and I'll miss him.

“ You can't keep a good man down ! Henry was a great man, an excellent businessman, a caring employer, and someone you wanted to be friends with. He never forgot his friends and he would always go out of his ways to ensure that you knew he cared about you. He will be sorely missed; guys like Henry don't come along too often. He fought his cancer and other ailments for a long time - maybe ten years. It took a lot of courage. RIP - Henry.
