“ Sis. Wilcoxon is missed so much even now after all these years. I miss our talks, our fun times playing games, the great Thanksgiving Days and how could I forget those crazy times at Weight Watchers. After we would go to the meetings, me, you, Wendy and Lynette would go to Giants and by our chocolate snacks. We were good. It is wonderful to see how your children are blessed by your example of living for God. they are determined just like you to make it to heaven.

“ Your grandkids are so NICE to me. Whenever I give them hugs... I'm hugging them for you, too. Kristen and Kyle sat with me on Sunday night. I LOVED it. :) You taught me so much about life, compassion & how we should treat each other. I was such a dork before I met you. Also, I appreciate STILL how you let me be a part of your family. You were PERFECT and I continue to keep a part of my heart reserved JUST for you and all the great memories & secrets we shared. Things are crazy without you here... not to mention very lonely. p.s. your kids are REALLY nice to me, too. :) I want to always have that special Wilcoxon bond. Yeah...I still miss you. The redskins ALMOST made it to the Superbowl this year. You woulda been proud. :) LOVE YOU ALWAYS, ALWAYS!!!!

There's a big, HUGE, gigantic gap without your sweet perfect self. I'm starting to learn to keep going on... I'm the wimpiest of the group. I'm trying to get tuff!! MISS you EVERY day. ttyl (oh, my word, someone on the floor below me is playing the drums... Isn't that just disgusting? ugh! well... please know I love you and love and love you. All the people that you said were weird have LIVED up to their standards. hahahaha drivin' me crazee - in the meantime tho' LOL Well, poor Price Funeral Home has to "proofread" all my long msgs, so let me quit talking.
