“Death is not to be feared. Our Heavenly Father, Who gives us life with its sunshine and shadows, also gives us the peaceful sleep we call death. It is our Father's greatest mercy, a peaceful release from the struggles of life.

“ Please accept my deepest condolences.

As I remember Jane, I am reminder of her beautiful love she had for animals.

Jane's was truly among the few people that always held here loving heart out to the world and you knew it because you could feel it. She retained a gentleness to her heart and soul.

I am sadden because Jane left us all much to soon. However, I am so glad she lived because of the beautiful contributions she made to people.

Jane will always live on in the hearts and souls of the people she touched. There is no finer resting place.

I am grateful that I knew Jane and will always remember her.

*Gratefully,
John Ellis
