“ Well Jeremy, it's another Father's Day and I'm sitting here thinking of you. The hole you left in my heart is still void and dark...I'm not sure it will ever be filled. There's not a day that goes by where I don't think of you. I miss you son...

“ Im very sorry for your loss, i know you dont know me and this would be awkward to hear from a faceless name, but after finding out where Jeremy has been after not hearing from it it would be an insult not to say something. I met Jeremy on xbox playing a game after taking a random chance he invited me to chat never having known me before. From the first day we talked Jeremy was always one of my if not my favorite person to talk to ever since, he was always happy, upbeat, and just a pleasure to be around and do anything with online. Sadly i never got the joy of getting to shake his hand and give him a hug outside of the digital world and that alone weighs very heavily on my heart and saddens me a great deal. I wish his family and friends all of the comfort i could possibly give anyone the world without one of its greatest and brightest people and i will miss him every day.

Please share this information with family, friends and anyone you think would be interested. If you are unable to attend in person, please light a candle from 7 pm until 8 pm in your time zone to honor all of Our Children Gone Too Soon.

Now believed to be the largest mass candle lighting on the globe, the 20th annual Worldwide Candle Lighting, a gift to the bereavement community from The Compassionate Friends, creates a virtual 24-hour wave of light as it moves from time zone to time zone. TCF's WWCL started in the United States in 1997 as a small internet observance, but has since swelled in numbers as word has spread throughout the world of the remembrance. Hundreds of formal candle lighting events are held and thousands of informal candle lightings are conducted in homes as families gather in quiet remembrance of children who have died, but will never be forgotten. The Compassionate Friends and allied organizations are joined by local bereavement groups, churches, funeral homes, hospitals, hospices, children's gardens, schools, cemeteries, and community centers. Services have ranged in size from just a few people to nearly a thousand.

“ I'm saddened to hear the news of Jeremy's passing. One of the most genuine people I've ever had the honor of being friends with. Kind, positive, uplifting..I could go on and on with words describing what an incredible individual he was. He was there to help me through some of my toughest times and I will always be blessed with knowing just what an important impact he had on my life. I will dearly miss him. I send all of my thoughts and prayers to the Schley family at this difficult time.

“ Dear Schley Family: We are so blessed to have known Jeremy! His eyes sparkled when he was happy. He was gracious, caring, and gentle in spirit. He was always here to help with anything we needed. Jeremy always had a smile for us. We loved how he was with the dogs, and was able to get "IN" to walk them with him. We all love Jeremy, and share in the sorrow for your loss. In our sorrow we can rejoice that we will see him again with the Lord. All your friends and family love you guys. We lift you up in prayer. "Cast your burden on the Lord, And He will sustain you..." Psalm 55:22. We pray for the Lord to comfort you. We know that Jesus has Jeremy with him now. Forever your friends, Jim and Janet
