“ I just learned of your recent loss and while we've never had the pleasure of meeting personally, I too have experienced the loss of loved ones in death, and I understand and sympathize with your grief, pain and sorrow. My purpose in contacting you is to share some encouraging and comforting scriptural thoughts that brought me comfort and hope during my times of sorrow.

please at a time convenient for you, consider the scriptural thoughts at:

Romans 15:4 - we can find hope and comfort from the scriptures.

1 Corinthians 15:26 - Death is an enemy and God will have is destroyed.

Hebrews 2:14 - Since Satan is the one that causes death, God has given Jesus the power and authority to destroy him.

Acts 24:14 - There will be a "resurrection of the just and unjust."

John 11:11-14 - Jesus will awaken those asleep in death as he did in the case of his friend Lazarus.

John 5:28,29 - Jesus will call the dead from their graves and restore them to earthly life by a resurrection.

Revelation 21:3-5 - Tears, mourning, pain, outcry and death will all pass away. God guarantees this promise by stating in verse 5, "these things are true and faithful."

I hope these few verses have brought you a measure of comfort. I am available for further free scriptural information at the enclosed e-mail address.

My sincere condolences,

SUE
