“ Hello to the daughters of Joy. I met Joy in 1989 in Mission Viejo CA. She was one of my first nail clients when I was first starting out. We became fast friends, she kept me company when my husband would be deployed, many dinners at our favorite Chinese food place in M.V. We lost touch, but got together again years later when she was married to Jerry.

I was thinking about her and thought I would try to find her on FB and I also googled her name, and saw this page. I am very sorry for your lose. I am very sorry I didn't try to get in touch with her again sooner. Funny things happen when you go through old address books. What a wonderful lady. I will miss her always. Pauline Parker
