“ Judy and I were babies together and grew up together in Fort Wayne, IN. We were not related but one of her cousins on her father's side was one of my cousins on my mother's side, regardless of that you would never have known we were not all related. We played together, we fought together. One of our biggest battles was over jumping in "mud holes". Toby (her mom or Aunt Edith Shirley's mom would come running out of the house yelling at us to stop fighting over mud holes...we continued. Judy was and will always be a part of my life. The past many many years we were never together, life took us in different directions, but we continued to share our memories, our laughter, our love for each other over the phone. My heart goes out to her children and grandchildren, I wish I could have known you and shared some of your experiences. My heart aches for your loss but I also believe that Judy is no longer suffering, no longer mourning the loss of her husband. I totally believe they are together again to never be separated again. Enjoy your new eternal life my friend, love you.....Linda May
