“ My sincerest and deepest condolences to you and your family on the loss of Katherine. I've shared your daughter's obituary to shed more light on an epidemic far too many are still not recognizing. I've been battling Lyme Disease and Coinfections for 18+ years- it's horrendous and only those who have been through it or have known someone close to them understand the meaning of why it's called a "battle." I'm sure Katherine was a Brave Warrior the entire way. I may not know you personally, but please take some comfort in knowing Katherine's Courageous Spirit is inspiring and will certainly help lift others fighting this terrible illness. The picture you provided of Katherine and her dog is magnificent-what a beautiful girl! Love and Peace to you and your family from Binghamton, New York.

“ We met Dan and Nancy nine years ago when we moved back to Virginia and felt welcomed from the beginning. We met week after week and shared our joys and our struggles. We spent nine years lifting the kids up in prayer - Mike & John, Mark & Kate. We grew to know Kate as a bright light with incredible compassion for all that was wrong in the world. It was such an honor to share in her life all these years. She is profoundly missed.

“ It warms my heart to see a photo of Kate with Mocha. I loved seeing her and Mark walking Mocha. Her heart and spirit were so thoughtful and caring. She showed the same loving nature when she and Mark would walk our dogs after school. I still treasure the photo coasters they made of our dogs. We were blessed to have been neighbors with such a beautiful soul.

“ Kate and Katie were nearly inseparable growing up. It was a sad day for us when you moved to Virginia. I'll always remember the kids playing together on our "two are easier than one" days. I smile when I think of Kate and her "sock bump" phase--which drove you crazy. You were and are a fantastic mom and Kate was blessed to be yours. My heart breaks for you, Dan and Mark. We send our love and our deepest condolences.

“Kate = Strength. She bravely endured such a long illness. She greeted me with smiles and helped her mom beat me at Words with Friends. She loves her family so much and they love her which means she had a successful life.

*with sympathy and love,
