“ We met Kaki and Bill at Greenwich Church. They sat behind us in the Chapel. She was always so friendly. We enjoyed talking to them, visiting them in Manassas, and going to lunch with our group. Kaki told us about how she met Bill and many stories of her family. She loved them all and was proud of them. We enjoyed seeing the pictures of her family.

Kaki lived the Dash. It wasn't the date she was born or the date that she died. It was the dash in between those dates that she made count. What a wonderful person. We were blessed to have her for a friend.

“ We can't say enough about how Kaki has affected our lives. Ultimately it was because Kaki encouraged Danny's mother to come to Greenwich Presbyterian Church that we were able to meet each other through the church. It is very unlikely that our paths would have ever crossed if not for Kaki. Thanks to her gentle persuasive ways four generations of our family have attended Greenwich Presbyterian Church. She was always giving thoughtful gifts to our grandchildren. These are just a small examples of how beautiful Kaki was and how she led such a wonderful life.

“ Kaki was my mom's (Janet Smith) best friend for as long as I could remember. We would go to her home and play, when we were children, as we were close in age. As I got older and had children, of my own, she was usually the sub for my youngest. He thought the world of Miss Kaki (he was a flirt even at a young age) and he seemed to leave a good impression with her, as she always mentioned him to me in a fond way. You could always count on her and her sidekick (Bill her husband) to have a funny joke or story. They were one of the happiest couples I knew even during rough times. She was never a complainer and always there with a listening ear for my mom, through the good and bad times of their lives. Now her and mommy can pick up, where they left off and guard over their families sending down a little tap on the shoulder, when we need it. I know she will be missed by Bill and the whole family and our prayers will be with you.

Love ya'll,

“ We were blessed to get to know Kaki and Bill through our Wednesday lunches. Kaki was one of the kindest people we’ve ever known. She always had a smile on her face regardless of how she was feeling. We will miss that smile but know she is feeling much better now. You’re in our thoughts and prayers.
