“ I'm saddened and sorry to hear of your loss. The times that Mike and myself have been with Ken, he was always very pleasant and courteous. He had a good heart and seemed to care about people around him.

It will be the little things that you will remember the quiet moments, the smiles, the laughter.

And although it may seem hard right now, it will be the memory of these little things that help to push away the pain and bring the smiles back again. May Ken rest in peace.
