“ I still can't believe you are gone, my friend. Kenny and I grew up together on Fitchett Street, and we were classic best friends from kindergarten through high school. My grandparents were his grandparents. From running bases in the street, little league and CYO baseball, touch football at Fleet Street and bowling. I'd go on his paper route with him "just because." Summertime in Sag Harbor at my grandma's house. I think of you often. His giggling laugh, our marathon games of monopoly....and he tried his hardest to teach me chess. Sorry!! A part of me went with you that day. You will never be forgotten. Thanks for being my best friend growing up. Wonderful and fantastic memories.

“ Guess I've known Ken for probably 5 years now. He was always so nice to me from the day he met me. Always smiling and a great spirit to be in the presence of. I met Ken at my buddy Tom's house. Ken, Otis, Dave, Ralph and I would sit around and sing songs and play music together. Ken always wanted me to play my harmonica louder but I'm still not quite comfortable yet lol. Dude Ken you will always be in my memory and heart. Thanks bro! GC

“ So very sorry for your loss. Kenny and I were close friends from 5th-12th grade. We bowled on the high school bowling team together, and to this day, I don't recall him ever being angry or upset. I would stay at his house till all hours of the night, playing ping pong or poker or whatever, much to the "delight" of his parents. A good man all around, and all I can do is say, "I'm sorry". - Spencer Taustine

“ My fondest memory of Kenny is from 1990 when he and my brother, Paul, were trying to teach my then less-than-one-year-old daughter, Amanda, to crawl. She was on her little hands and knees, just rocking back and forth. Kenny was cheering her on - c'mon Amanda! Move forward! Go! They were both on the floor next to her, showing her what to do. I don't remember if she actually made any forward progress that time, but I do remember Kenny ... always with that smile ... always such a sweet, sweet man. He has been taken far, far too soon and will be sorely missed.
