

Kenneth Savage,

October 23, 1972 - February 25, 2012

KENNETH JOSEPH SAVAGE, JR., age 39 of Manassas, Virginia passed away peacefully Saturday night, February 25, 2012 at home while watching TV with his beloved wife and daughter. Ken was born to Kenneth and Shelly Savage of Milford, MA on October 23, 1972.

Ken honorably served his country in the US Army as a generator technician, ushered in the digital revolution manufacturing the fastest Pentium Processors on the planet at Intel Semiconductor Mass, aided IBM in their endeavors, and furthered the fight against terrorism working at Siemens as a Senior X-Ray Field Technician serving the Washington, DC area metal detectors and scanners. Ken was among other things a dedicated husband, father, friend, phenomenal painter, electrician, plumber and always strove to make his family's life better.

Ken is survived by his lovely wife Christina, his beautiful daughter Kara and his newly graduated Marine son David. He also leaves his parents Kenneth and Shelly Savage; his father-in-law, Robert Swartz; mother-in-law, Lois Swartz; step sisters Lorrie Cozzens and Dawn Bibeau; step brothers Jack Tierney and Justin Daughenbaugh; cousin Tracy Doyle; and too many friends to list.

The kenebration will be held at Pierce Funeral Home, 9609 Center Street,

Manassas, Virginia (www.piercefh.com) on Saturday, March 3, 2012 from 4:00-6:00 P.M. at which point the party will migrate to Hard Times Café in Manassas, VA from 6:00-8:00 PM. In lieu of flowers, the family asks that you consider donations to David Savage via snailmail or Paypal to DavidSavageMarineCorpsFund@yahoo.com and that you please view Ken's Facebook home page for more details and digital submissions for the service picture slideshow.

“ I will forever remember your incredible sense of humor, your smile was contagious, and no happy hour will ever be the same again. I will miss you surely, and I will promise you to continue to be in touch and to help your family. You left us way too early. It is hard to accept.

...*"The silver drops echo
Like a knell
Like the heavy bell that will
Swing up and down
Amid a fluster of angry birds
On the morning they realize
I am gone*

*Life is so short it seems
As I look back on it
Everything is foreshortened
From this perspective so many
Memories stuffed into that
Moment of light
I remember watching as a boy
Mayflies live out their
Six-hour lives fluttering
And skimming above the pond
Joyously on new wings;
Drunk on the gift of live.
So senseless and so sweet-*

*And when, a while after
Their fragile corpses floated
Like a white carpet on the still pond,
New eggs had already begun to grow"*

from a poem by Jonathan B. Tucker (1956-2011)

“ Kenny was always mature for his age. He was a wonderful friend and support to my family. My children all have fond memories of him. Great memories of Ken and my late daughter at Living and Learning Nursery and the support he gave her to fight her battle with renal failure to the end. We made trips from Burlington, VT where she went to college to WNEC in MA where Ken was a student. Great memories forever which go back to my growing up next to Ken's dad. He will always be missed.

“ I remember a saying that ken would say to me, If i have a pillow I can sleep anywhere., and he was right. I would find him sleeping in a cubby hole while the rest of us on break would be playing cards.... right next to him. :) Miss your wit and candor, rest well my friend.

“ I was lucky to have had the opportunity to get to know Ken in a work setting. He made the days short by sharing his service stories and details about his lovely wife and children. When I was feeling sad, he always knew just what to say to put a smile on my face. There were also quite a few days I remember laughing for hours at his jokes. I will miss him dearly. Cheers to you Ken! The world won't be the same without you.

Christina, Kara, and David my thoughts and prayers are with you.
