

Laszlo Andor Koves

August 31, 1943 - November 24, 2025

Laszlo Andor Köves, 82, passed away on November 24, 2025 in Manassas, Virginia. He was born on August 31, 1943 in Budapest, Hungary and was the son of Andor Köves and Irén Bíró. Laszlo received a Master's Degree in Electronic Engineering from George Mason University and worked as an engineer for Vega Precision Laboratories and MRC.

He was known for his generous spirit and willingness to help anyone in need. With a dry, quick wit and an excellent sense of humor, he had a way of delivering comments that could catch you off guard and leave you laughing. Adventurous at heart, he earned his sailing license and found joy on the open water, whether on a cruise, snorkeling, or simply taking a swim. He loved to explore new places and restaurants and his passion for travel enriched his life with unforgettable experiences and stories. Laszlo was an active member of All Saints Catholic Church and regularly donated to St. Joseph's Indian School and St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital.

He is survived by his wife of thirty years Elise Robinson Koves, his daughter Viktória Köves, stepdaughter Anise Robinson, son in law Jose Carcamo, stepson Duane Robinson, grandson Sebastian Papp, his sister in law Éva Köves, his niece Bajkone Gabriella Köves, and her four children Gréti, Evelin, Titán, Deján, and his close friends Mary and Laszlo Balaz and Sharon Kilgore.
