“ I remember the day she married Tom and had her reception at Twin Lakes. She was the Apple of her Grandmas (Katie Scanlons) eye. What a beautiful bride!! In fact, I think she placed third at St Lawrence County Dairy Princess competition in her junior or senior year. We all remember her as a Cheerleader - always happy and smiling. Tom and Lynne so happy. I hope your Dad tells you kids all about their school days. One year Tom got Katie a new teakettle , only to find out that Katie had been gifted at least two others before she was given the one from him. What a wonderful family. So sorry. I wish you kids could go and sit on the porch Paul smoking his pipe and reading the paper the girls watching the cars by in the yellow house on Main Steet.
Rest in Peace Carol, Mary Carol, Paul ,Katie and now Lynne.
Tom may you , Tommy and Alisa have comfort with Happier memories.

“ Tom,

My families prayers are with you during this time. Let me give you this – do you know how a pearl is formed? When an oyster gets a cut or irritation it secret's a healing fluid the forms a pearl. So a pearl is a symbol of healed wound. Is it any wonder that when we pass away we go through the what? Pearly gates, healed wound, no more pain. God be with you my friend.
