

Marianne Sarah Nigreville

September 17, 1945 - July 7, 2024

On July 7th, 2024, Marianne Sarah Nigreville, nee Koller, left this earth to be with the Lord.

Born July 17th, 1945, in Trenton, NJ, Marianne grew up a “Jersey Girl” with her parents and two brothers. She married Walter Douglas Nigreville on Sept 5th, 1964, and they subsequently moved to Northern Virginia, where they have lived ever since.

Marianne was a devout Christian whose faith guided all aspects of her life—as a wife, mother, grandmother, sister, daughter, elementary school teacher, and Sunday school teacher. Her love of Christ as her savior underpinned and shone through her love for all those, she called family and friends.

Marianne spent two and half decades as a teacher’s assistant and then computer lab teacher for Prince William County schools. Her time was spent bringing guidance and love to generations of children who came through her classrooms.

Marianne spent over four decades teaching Sunday school. She enjoyed sharing Christ’s love and teachings to young children.

Later in life, Marianne enjoyed spending time volunteering at the Manassas senior center and sharing time with her husband and lifelong friends.

She was preceded in death by her brother, Winfield Koller, and parents Norman and Martha Koller. She is survived by her brother Frank Koller, her loving husband of 59.8 years, Walter D. Nigreville, and their 4 children—Doug Nigreville, Marc Nigreville, Mindi Mullins, and Dara Nigreville. She will be missed by her ten grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.
