“ Mark was a true professional and great colleague. Mark loved his profession and his country, which was very indicative of his character and his dedication to the ideals of what it means to be an American. I only worked with Mark for 18 months, but what I learned from him had a great impact on my work ethic. Mark tackled his work in a very systematic way and he dedicated long hours during the day to ensure his tasks were completed on time. Often I would hear his booming baritone, from over our shared cubicle, welcome me to work in the morning and then bid me a fond good evening at the end of the day. Mark had a great sense of humor and would make very sly comments that only I could hear, about a conversation going on in the office or a situation that was developing in the world. He had a firm grasp of politics and world affairs and Mark was not ashamed to voice his opinion and stand his ground when he was right or capitulate on an issue when he wasn't. We at SRD will miss Mr. Mark Allan Coyle and send our sincere condolences to his family and his friends. - Orlando Bryant.
