“Mary was a dear friend of mine. We lived at the same senior complex. I was with her when she fell and broke her collarbone and shoulder. She came into our senior center from slipping and was covered in mud and blood. Everyone turned away from her but I chose to get her to the ER and came home to care for her dog and helped with her daily care until she was able to do so herself. Then I went with Mary to the Pet ER until her dog passed away. Happiness was Mary when she adopted Ebony from a pet rescue group. I came to know Mary well a year before I moved and I valued her. She shared her life history with me and was amazed at all she did. Recently I was considering moving back to the same senior complex and saw a picture of Mary on the FaceBook page. In discussing the decision to return I shared my fondness for my friendship with Mary with the property manager and it was then that I learned of Mary's passing. I am deeply sorry as she was a treasured and valued woman and I will miss her.
