“ My beloved brother so many Memories. Loved his laugh. How we would sing old country songs. We couldn't carry a tune. I will miss seeing and talking on the phone. Miss hearing him say I love you. We had a close and loving relationship. I could tell him things I didn't want others to know. He's had a difficult yr. There was no hope for him. God healed and took him home to be by his side. I will see him again. God promised us if we believe in him we would be together. We were blessed to have his love and he knew we loved him.

Marion, as I knew him was a shy man. He served his nation in thr Air Force. His passing, though bittersweet, was The Great Physician's way of healing the pain he endured. A gentler soul could not be found. Rest In Peace in the arms of a loving Father. Until we meet again.
