“ I always knew my my Uncle Mike as an honorable man. From a young age, I was intrigued by his stories of being a medic in the military and also his gifts to me that he purchased from other places in the world (some of which I still have!). I always thought that Uncle Mike understood me in a special way. He also extended his generosity to me in various ways. I've always respected him and the dignity by which he lived his life and dealt with the inevitable losses in life. I have always felt fondness for him and will continue to do so.
His niece,
Susan
