Dear cousins, I wish you peace to bring comfort, courage to face the days ahead and loving memories to forever hold in your hearts. My best childhood recollections center around small family reunions; our two families alone added up to 22 people! One year we traveled from NW Indiana to Vint Hill Farms, Virginia, were thrilled to meet cousins our own age. Living in Fairfax from 1992-2000 reunited us. Now your dad and mom are together for eternity!

“ My condolences to Ron and to Suzanne, wonderful students I remember from my teaching days at Stonewall! What wonderful tributes they are to this remarkable family. I read the Post each day from my home in Oxford, Mississippi and today discovered the passing of a long adored mother. Blessings, and remember that your mother is not past, she lives on in each of you.

Thinking of you and sending you my deepest sympathy. I will always remember your Mom as a beautiful and elegant woman. When I would see your Mom and Dad together through the years my first thought was what a special love they shared. May God's perpetual light shine upon her.*

“Oh, Marsha... I'm so very, very sorry for the loss you've endured. I wish I had words of comfort beside the usual cliché, but all I can tell you is that my heart truly and honestly goes out to you! I know you have an unshakable faith, and I know it's helping you through this time of sorrow, loss, and adjustment. For that, I'm truly glad. You and your family are in my prayers. I pray for comfort, and for serenity. I don't know what I would do without my mom... I read the obituary, and it made me tear up. Your mom sounds like a beautiful soul, and that imprint she left in you will stay with you forever. She'll be watching over you, now, with her beloved Robert by her side. What a glorious thought! Please, my friend, be well. I know you have family and friends to love you and help you, but in this little corner of your world, I'm here too. You're loved. May God lift her by His side, and may He lift your spirit high, too. Much love from us all.

“ I have known the Frappier family for over 50 years. First being friends with Suzanne in high school and sitting out in front of her house with our high school buds many nights. I didn't realize that I would be buying the house across the street from them in my adult life. And then became good friends with Charlene and her dental school experiments. And finally good friends with Marsha as she looked after her mom and dad for the last many years. Bob was always the guy that got me in trouble because before I could get home from work he would edge my sidewalks and my wife would get mad because I wasn't out there doing it before him. We love the Frappier family immensely and you can't mention Myra without talking about Bob. What a true Hallmark movie they would have made. We've missed Bob but we always had Myra in the neighborhood as a sweet neighbor and kindest person that you'll ever want to know. my friends would come over and hang out in my garage and look across the street at Myra thinking she was one of the daughters not the mother. What pride I had to say that she was mom. I'm happy for her as she is dancing in heaven with Bob, but we'll miss her immensely.
