

Niti Karan

July 7, 1973 - March 5, 2024

With immense sadness, we bid farewell to Mrs. Niti Karan, who passed away on March 5, 2024. Niti, born in Gaya, Bihar, India, on September 8, 1971, blossomed in Banaras, UP, and later found love and family in New Delhi, India.

A beacon of love and devotion, Niti was the nurturing mother of Shagun and Srijan Karan and the cherished Wife of Manoj Karan. Fondly called "Pappi" by her adoring parents, Vidya & N N Sinha, she leaves behind brothers Abhijeet & Vishal Sinha. She has many cousins, nieces and nephews and a plethora of friends who loved her dearly and who treasured her deeply.

In Bristow, Virginia, she crafted a heaven of happiness with her loved ones. Niti's contagious laughter, unwavering support, and zestful nature touched the hearts of all who crossed her path. Her soul found solace in nature's embrace, tending to her garden and embarking on adventures to tropical paradises. A devoted enthusiast of Bollywood films and Amitabh Bachchan, her infectious humor lit up every room.

While her physical presence may be gone, her essence of honesty, integrity, and compassion will endure eternally. A celebration of her life will be held in due course, as we gather to honor her remarkable journey. During this challenging time, your unwavering support means the world to our grieving family.

“ Niti was very near and dear to us. Her laughter was contagious, her food was delicious, her presence made every moment enjoyable.

Her love for family and friends were something to admire, her devotion to family and kids were the showcase of love.

Time spent with her whether it's Diwali, Holi, or makar sankranti, will live forever with us.

We love you Niti
