

Noah Maxwell Kadushin

September 5, 1985 - December 2, 2025

It is with unbearable heartbreak that we announce the passing of Noah Kadushin, a devoted father, beloved husband, cherished son, adored brother, and loyal friend who left this world far too soon. Noah passed away on December 2, 2025. Although our hearts will never be the same, his memory will live on in the lives he touched so deeply.

Noah is survived by his three beautiful children, Alina, Mona, and Zayn, who were the brightest lights of his life. In their laughter, he found joy. In their curiosity, he found purpose. In their smiles, he discovered the truest meaning of love. Every day with them shaped him into the man he was proud to be, and his spirit will continue to guide their steps for the rest of their lives.

He is also survived by his loving wife, Mai Kadushin, who will forever cherish the years, memories, and irreplaceable bond they built together. Though life brought its challenges, the love between them created a family rooted in strength, resilience, and deep affection.

Noah was loved beyond measure by his parents, who held him close from the moment he entered this world, and by his sisters, who will forever remember his gentle heart, his humor, and the way he could light up a room simply by being in it.

His friends, too, will never forget him. Noah had a quiet magic about him, a way of making people feel welcome, valued, and seen. Though his journey on Earth ended far too soon, the beauty of who he was remains woven into every memory, every story, and every life he touched.

Though our hearts are shattered, we honor Noah by holding onto the love he shared so generously. We pray that he has found peace. Noah will be forever missed, forever loved, and forever remembered.

May his soul rest in eternal peace.
