“ We just received the news of Pamela's death. Our hearts are sad for her beloved family and friends. Pam and I had frequent communications while she traveled the most difficult of journeys. We shared our faith with prayers, for the tranquil calm of inner peace. Pam was truly a joy to share time with. Her faith was strong and trusting. She will be greatly missed, but always remembered. Our love and warmest embrace,

“ Pam and I first met at IBM in 1973; she was my high school co-op. She is also the very first person in Virginia to watch our 2-year-old son for my husband and me to take my parents to Hayloft Dinner Theater when they came up to visit from FL. Pam also brought me the "take home" outfit when our daughter was born (1976). That was before the days of routine ultrasounds and I went to the hospital not knowing if I'd be having a little girl or a little boy. So I took a generic outfit with me to bring home the new baby. Don't you know that Pamela Jane came to the hospital with the most beautiful little pink Polly Flanders dress, booties, blanket. Having no family in the area, you can only imagine what that meant to me! We have had a wonderful and long friendship. I know that Pam loves her family and that she was always a terrific friend.
