

Pascual Antonio Puigbo

December 16, 1949 - December 4, 2025

Pascual Antonio Puigbo was born on December 18, 1949 in Caracas, Venezuela. He was a man of deep love for Christ in the Eucharist, an example of Christian life and of the certainty that true holiness can be achieved in the ordinary life within the vocation of marriage.

Pascual married Liselotte Capriles in January 6, 1973 and had four children; Fr. Juan Puigbo, Consecrated Virgin Marielisa Puigbo, Pascual Ignacio and Mariemilia.

During his life, Pascual built a retreat center in honor of Our Blessed Mother. He was a man of multiple skills, a builder, a carpenter and farmer. Along with his wife, was a promoter of the dignity of marriage and the universal call to holiness.

Pascual died at home in Haymarket, Virginia after suffering an aggressive cancer without complaining, not even once. Instead, he embraced the cross with Christian joy, peace and hope in the eternal promises. While he was dying his wife and children were singing praises to the Lord imploring graces for the salvation of his soul.

He is survived by his wife Liselotte, their four children Fr. Juan, Marielisa, Pascual Ignacio (and his wife Andrea La Fuente) and Mariemilia (and her husband Armando Lepage) and the grandchildren, Armando, Sophie and Gabriel. He is also survived by his brothers: Jorge Puigbo, Arnaldo Puigbo, Raul Puigbo, and Juan Andres Puigbo.

He is preceded in death by his parents Pascual Puigbo and Ligia Quinones and his sister Maruja Puigbo.

May he rest in peace!
