“ Patricia,

We miss you sweetie. You always came in the salon with the brightest smile and the funnniest stories. We envied how you were so carefree and loved life to the fullest. You always loved your hairstyle and always gave us huge hugs before you left the salon.

We will always remember you as that special bright smiling client that fought a good fight.

We love and miss you dearly Patricia.

Rest in peace w God.

“ I?m sorry for your loss. It seems so unfair that death should have the power to take away someone you love. And when it happens, the thought of never again being able to talk to, laugh with, or hold your loved one can be most difficult to bear. That pain is not necessarily erased by being told that your loved one is up in heaven. The Bible however holds out a much different hope. The Scriptures indicate that it is possible to be reunited with your dead loved one in the near future, not in an unknown heaven but right here on earth under peaceful, righteous conditions. ?Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice 29 and come out, those who did good things to a resurrection of life, those who practiced vile things to a resurrection of judgment.? (John 5:28, 29)

“ I am so very sorry for your loss. I just found out about Patty's passing from a prior student who had been her classmate. I was her Spanish teacher in the fall, and I admired her spirit in class, and her wonderful attitude and study skills. She was an amazing person, full of potential. I am truly saddened to hear of her passing, because I know the world has lost a true gem. You have my condolences.
