“ I was one of Polly's clients, and I am very saddened to hear that she left us. I used to have a piece of mind hearing her laughter assuring me that everything will be okay. I just found out yesterday that she passed away and it struck me very badly. My prayers go to her loved ones and to her children and her grand children.

“ It became clear to me shortly after meeting Polly that she had a love for food, and there were some foods she was quite particular about. During a visit for dinner one time, a meal of Tex-Mex was being served with a full spread, including chips n' guac. After loading up my plate, as I was heading to the dining table I noticed a skirmish brewing in the kitchen. There, each with a fork in hand were Polly and Betsy verbally jostling over how much guacamole the other was taking. The forks soon became weapons to hold the other at bay, but then I saw that the battle lines were being drawn .. with the forks .. in the guac! I'm fairly certain that a compromise was eventually reached and the dip was halved (or close enough) between the two of them. And so pretty much since that scene, I would steer clear of coming between Polly and Betsy, and the possibility of being on the losing side of a Guacamole War.

“ Betsy, Kirk, and Alexandria, I am so sorry for the loss of your mother. She was one of my best friends since about the age of 5. We had many fun times together and I will never forget her. She was an inspiration to me with all that she accomplished. She loved you and your children with all her heart. As she got older her grandchildren were the joy of her life. I was always sorry that we lived so far apart. But, anytime I saw her or talked with her it was just like I had seen her just the day before and we took up there. God bless you all!! Love, Mary Kay Misenheimer

“ Dear Betsy, Kirk and Alexandra,

We never had the pleasure of meeting your Mom but we know she was a very special lady. The joy you brought to her life was undeniable - could tell this by little tidbits Betsy would share. May there be some comfort in the hope she is at peace and remembering your cherished times together.

Fondly,
Cindy & Chuck Eller

“ Polly was a dear, dear friend. I first got to know her when we were grieving the suicide of our son. She opened her home to us and fed us (showed me how to make an omelet) and helped us to laugh again. I remember many Outer Banks vacations with her; we shared confidences and cocktails, shopping trips and cooking. Early each morning she would drive to the Apple Blossom Snack Shop for a bagful of "Apple Uglies" to share. She was a wise and trusted friend whom I admired, appreciated, and enjoyed tremendously.

“ I have many fond memories of dinners with Polly, her Kiwanis Christmas parties, her friends and family, her thoughts about life and the way she lived and shared it. She was well spoken, well-reasoned, and unflappable. I wish I could be more like her.

Rest in peace, Polly. You will be missed by many. Your words of wisdom are appreciated and will never be forgotten. My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family.

“ Betsy, Kirk, and Alexandra - We are so sorry to hear about the loss of your mother. Some of my favorite memories of her were seeing the birthday cakes she would come up with for Liam's birthday every year. She was so creative, and I think it was so cool that she always tried to do something special every year. She definitely loved her children and grandchildren. “ I had the great fortune of being Polly's paralegal for a few years. She was a tough cookie, and it was one of the things I most admired about her although there were many things that impressed me about her. Polly was so much more than just my boss, and I loved her dearly. I will miss her, but know I am better for having known her.
