“ I don't even know how to express the sad feeling i've had since reading that post at 5:30 Monday morning. I know I must've read it 5 times before I could take it in as being real!!! Randy you were an awesome, funny, caring and so laid back kind of guy! I knew when going over to mom and dads for whatever event was going on that I'd see you in the corner just sitting back and observing everyone, then i'd come sit with you and we'd laugh at all the stupid stuff people would be doing or saying!! Haha!!! I know you were probably yelling at me on Monday telling me kid don't be sad, don't beat yourself up about this, I'm ok now because I know you will be up there watching me and probably laughing at me at some of the stuff I do and say on a daily basis! You will be extremely missed by our family...the parties and times at mom and dads will NEVER be the same!! You told me on our conversation that Saturday morning that you were saving all your vacation time so in December you can be sitting on the beach in Miami with all those women waiting on you!!! I'm sure you're there now with your bike riding along, carefree and happy!!! Love you Randy RIP!!!

“ One of my favorite memories of Randy is when he was trying to play with my dog, Lolli and he made a sort of elephant trumpeting sound and scared her senseless. She took off running and we all busted out laughing. It was a very funny moment. I will miss you Randy. I'm sorry we didn't get the chance to drink moonshine together. I was looking forward to it.

“ My Dear Randy, It breaks my heart you have gone so young with so much life ahead of you. I can still see you coming to my home as a two year old with that smile and blond hair to play with my two sons who were like brothers to you when living on Old Bridge Rd. Those were such good times with your brothers and sisters. I felt like a second mother. Thinking of you each day, thankful you enjoyed life to the fullest. Love you, Aunt Ginny
