

Richard Clayton Guy

December 20, 1928 - October 25, 2014

Richard Clayton Guy, of Manassas, VA, passed away October 25, 2014 at age 85 from complications of pneumonia.

Mr. Guy was born on December 20, 1928 in Evanston, Illinois, and grew up in Chevy Chase, Maryland. He was a third generation artist and his art ability showed from a very early age. He began studying at a Georgetown studio, especially enjoying portraiture. He was graduated from Syracuse University School of Fine Arts in 1951. Following graduation, he was an illustrator for the US Air Force and then was associated with an art studio in Manhattan. He and his family lived in Westport, Connecticut, until he established his own studio specializing in advertising art in Washington, D.C.

During this period, Mr. Guy created such works as the first drawing of the Pepperidge Farm goldfish cracker package, exhibit paintings for the U.S. Department of the Interior, a permanent portrait collection for the U.S. Patent Office, drawings for the U.S. Department of State, and many renderings for Red Cross manuals. Over the years, he painted eight views of the U.S. Capitol building which were made into Christmas cards and purchased by members of Congress.

After moving to Manassas in 1967 with his wife and four children, Mr. Guy became interested in the area's history and drew Civil War historical sites throughout the region. He created paintings of the Manassas area for the Manassas Museum, which were used as Christmas cards, as well as Liberia Plantation, the Stone House and the Stone Bridge. He went on to create pen and ink renderings and paintings of innumerable Mid-Atlantic landmarks for the National Park Service. His paintings are hung nationally and internationally in private, corporate and government collections.

Loving his Old Town Manassas home, Mr. Guy became known for his daily walks with his dog and an ever-present cup of coffee. He loved the beach at Nags Head, the family cabin at Deep Creek Lake, and fishing of any kind

Mr. Guy was a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity, Manassas Museum Associates, and Old Town Business Association and a past member of Art Beat Gallery, Manassas Architectural Review Board and Unity of Fairfax.

Survivors include his wife of 62 years, Shirley; children Marianne Pendlebury (Stephen)

Of Herndon, Stephen (Kristy) of Costa Mesa, CA, Clayton (Angelique) of Gilbert, AZ and Allan of Manassas. His grandchildren are Michael Pendlebury, Laura Delaney (CJ), Julia Guy, Evan Guy and Chase Bailey (Leah).

The family will receive friends at Pierce Funeral Home , 9609 Center Street, Manassas, VA on Wednesday, November 12, 2014 from 6-8 PM where a memorial service will be held on Thursday, November 13, 2014 at 2:00 PM.

“ Dear Mrs. Guy and family,

I have such fond memories of Mr. Guy, the kind man across the street during my Manassas childhood. I love the photo you have of him here. Every time I look at it, it makes me smile. I can still clearly picture him walking Fang down our block. And I was so deeply impressed as a child that Mr. Guy drew the Pepperidge Farm art! That made him a celebrity in my eyes. Honestly, I still think of him every time I see a Goldfish package.

I send my deepest sympathy for your loss. It's been decades since I saw Mr. Guy but I am grieving him too. He was a such a kind and neighborly presence on our block.

“ I met Dick through spiritual circles when I lived in VA, and enjoyed visiting with Dick and Shirley in their home. They always made me feel like part of the family. When I moved to Florida on my own in the early 2000's, Dick would call me frequently to make sure that I was doing OK, and to give me words of encouragement. That is one of the kindest things anyone has ever done for me -- what a true friend. I have kept a picture of Dick with my other framed family photos for many years.

Although I haven't seen Dick in recent years, I am so honored to have been his friend. It seems to be a theme among some of the other memories posted here, but both Dick and Shirley are honestly two of the nicest people that I have ever known, and I feel so very blessed.

“ I am greatly saddened by the news of Richard's passing. We have been friends since the mid 1980s when I commissioned him to do the artwork for 10 beautiful note cards for the Washington County (MD) Convention Bureau. He drew another remarkable set of 10 note cards for me when I worked in Martinsburg, WV in the early 2000s. But the best was yet to come. In 2006, I asked Richard to do something he had never done before. He accepted the challenge. He ended up drawing the amazing cover artwork for my book "The Virginian Who Might Have Saved Lincoln". Richard was the most gentle man I ever knew. He always had an award winning smile. We had many good times together over the years. My prayers are with Shirley and the family. May you rest in peace, my friend. Bob O'Connor Charles Town, West Virginia

“ Shirley and family, My deepest sympathy to you at this time. Dick was such a special person. During my time in NoVa, I so enjoyed our spiritual groups, and loved his art. I commissioned three paintings of the Blue Ridge mountains. We spent a day driving the mountains deciding on the most beautiful scenes for him to paint, and they now occupy the walls of my living room. I am so glad I will be in town this week and able to attend the memorial service. Nancy Detweiler

“ To the Guy family,
We met Mr Richard Guy many many years ago at Deep Creek Lake where he and Shirley are our neighbors. I don't think I ever saw him without a smile on his face... our family enjoyed his artwork in the cards and so enjoyed hearing about his art work projects (he would never offer of course but I would ask and re-ask -we were always excited to hear what he was up to next) - Mr. Guy's mother was talented, Richard Guy talented and the talent continues in his children... He will be missed. Our sincere sympathy to the entire Guy family. The McLaughlin's.

“ Among my fondest memories of working at The Manassas Museum are the chances I had to work with Dick. His warmth, openness, and considerable talents made him an asset to his community and a treasure to his friends and family. I cannot recall ever seeing him without a smile on his face! Like everyone who knew and loved him, I mourn his passing but give thanks for a life well lived. Heartfelt condolences to Shirley, Marianne, Stephen, Clayton, Allan, and the rest of the family.

“ Hi Allan and Family,
Please accept my condolences on the passing of your Dad. I never met him, but I'd like to think I know Mr. Guy through my friendship with Allan. Such a warm-hearted and genuine person as Allan came from the same in his parents. And I'm sure Allan's passion for fishing came from his dad. So thank you Richard and Shirley for making a good friend in your son. Maybe Mr. Guy can have a portrait sitting with General Lee now in heaven!
Peace and Prayers to the entire Guy family

“ We moved in accross the street from the Guys 28 years ago in December. Dick was a brother Sigma Nu. There were times in those 28 years that I needed a helping hand. Dick was always there to give me one. I worked for him and with him. I mowed his lawn. We collaborated on projects incorporaring his art work. We fished together many times. I built furniture for him and made repairs to his home. I sat on his porch and drank coffee with him many times. His cat (Gus) sat and slept on my back porch just as many times. Every time I smoked salmon there was a piece reserved for my favorite fraternity brother. I believe that people exist for as long as someone remembers them. I will remember Dick until the day I follow him. Dick, I promise i will keep an eye on Shirley and the Wizard. I love you man.

Dear wonderful Shirley and family,

Thanks for sharing Dick with us---all the women and men he loved. How he called us dear ones....how he told me I was perfect just the way I was---even when life was getting me down. What a dear evolved SOUL, Sir Richard Guy---a love bug!so full of Love, an actualized human being. One consolation I feel for us, he'll be heading up the welcoming party when it's our time in Heaven.

God bless you all. Love, Kim Slevin and my daughter Hana--she loved him too!!!
