“ One of my favourite memories of Uncle Robert was, when we were down in Richmond for Thanksgiving one year, my wife and I decided to take the kids and their cousins bowling. We quickly ushered the kids out the door, and my wife asked, "Was that all the kids?" And it was so we went to leave.

Just as we were leaving Uncle Robert spoke up. I wasn't quite sure what to expect at the time but I gave him my full attention. He simply added, "What about us."

Uncle Robert reminded me in that moment (and many bowling exertions since in memory of this) that you truly never grow old, only young. As well as grab family time when you can.

A true testament of a family man.
