“ For almost 36 years Bob was a neighbor, friend and an inspiration for strong and productive living. Bob was one year younger than me but acted like he was 40 years younger. When he experienced health issues, Bob would just shrug them off and go about fixing the problem. He could have a heart procedure today and tomorrow he would be out mowing his yard and putting brakes on his truck. When he had knee replacement surgery he was out walking around the neighborhood before many men would have been walking to the bath room. On his days off from his second career you would find him doing things that most people his age pay someone else to do for them. Only ten days before he passed he helped me replace my rural mailbox in 90 degree heat while I was walking with a crutch. They don't make them like Bob anymore. I'm really going to miss him.
