“ Papaw, I can't believe it's been two years since you passed away. I miss you so much. I remember the fun trips to Florida picking the oranges in the back yard and going to the Strawberry festival. Me and Emily miss you and I know you wish you were here to see Zach. I'll make sure when he's older to tell him all the fun times I had with you and Mamaw. I know your happy now and your with Mamaw. ”

“ Papaw, you have always been the backbone of the family and have always been there to help in a time of need and not having you here is a hard pill to swallow. You will forever hold a special place in my heart and be a thought in my mind everyday. I know you are at peace with no pain now which has brought some ease to the pain. I will love you forever and always ❤️

“ The man who raised me for years, took care of me when I needed it the most, helped me through a difficult divorce and so much more. I graduated highschool but was never very good at it but Papa always pushed me to do better. He payed for my first semester of college and it was only up from there. I'll never forget such a wonderful man and all he has done. The world will never be the same without him but he is no longer in pain and I can be at peace with that. You know what Papa? We love you! Always will. - T.J. ❤️

“Dad, I will cherish all the memories I have of you, and all the the conversations we had every night. I will miss you greeting me with a “ You know what”. All the times you told me how beautiful I was. I will miss holding your hand every night while you slept. The time we spent together for the last year and half, I would not trade it for anything. I’m sorry you suffered so much! I remember one night, you were sleeping ,and I was sitting there holding your hand, you woke up and looked over and saw me, and your face lit up and you said “ oh you’re still here” I said yes I’m here holding your hand. Then you said “ oh thank goodness, I don’t know what I would do without you” . Well, Dad, I don’t know what I’m going to do without You! I remember all the times you took me with you to the 7-11 to help you bag ice. All the times you let me pick out 2 pieces of candy. The trips we took to Clintwood , when you would stop the car so I could throw up. The curves would get me every time. Always asking me if I would shake your hand. You being such a good sport and dressing up for all my crazy parties. You never complained and always enjoyed the little things in life. I will miss your tan shirts you wore all the time. I will miss walking in the house and you not being there. You’re my Buddy. They’re so many things that I will miss....too many to list. I can’t imagine life without you. The tears keep flowing, but I know you’re in a better place. Love you more,
Cindy

“ Dad

I will always remember the story's you shared with me about your time in the Air Force. I will forever treasure your wickedly fun sense of humor and all the times we had each other laughing so hard we were crying.

I Loved the way we sat for hours listening to County and Gospel Music and sharing each other's favorite songs.

I'm playing some of our songs from our playlist as I'm writing this. I know you're no longer in pain and now you can go fishing, gardening and do all the puzzles you want which brings joy and peace to my heart. Save a few pieces of your puzzle for me. See you on the Sunny Side!

Love you Forever and Always

“ Papaw –

I miss you so much! I miss all the times we went grocery shopping at Shoppers and got the big, colossal donuts. I miss helping you rake up the leaves and pittling in the yard. I miss riding Ole Nellie just one more time. I miss going back to school shopping with you at Kmart. I will miss that weird noise you always made with your mouth that no one else can ever recreate. I will miss all the times you drove me and gave me $2 dollars to rent a game at blockbuster. I miss watching you beat the first level of My Hero on the Sega Master System and playing RBI baseball with me and always throwing the pitches really slow so I could hit them. I will miss visiting you in Florida and going to get strawberry shortcakes. I will miss all your wise words and funny sayings. But most of all I will miss you Papaw and all your love and kindness! Until we meet again one day.

*Love and Prayers Forever,
Matt*

“ Papaw, I will miss you in so many ways. As my father in law youve influenced me in so many good ways. I will miss how you wore your emotions on your sleeve, you werent hard to read, I love that about you. I will miss how generous you were, with support, love and anything else I ever needed. How you always secretly pulled the waitress aside and made sure you were to get the dinner bill for all of us . How I heard you say at least a thousand times " Love ya Honey "... I will miss how funny you were, I still chuckle every time I think about certain things you said. I will miss how you always got enjoyment out of the simple things in life. How delicious the watermelon or Angus beef was (or even a simple Wendys hamburger). How green the grass was getting, how big an Azaela bush was. Arranging the family photo albums and proudly showing them off. Telling stories about Clintwood, the military and of course 7-11. Ill miss how you always managed to see the beauty in things and hearing you say " thats beautiful " That drift of sand is beautiful, that crop on the side of the road is beautiful , the water is beautiful...it ddint matter.. Im so lucky that I still have a piece of you in my wife Cindy, in the family and everyone in your life. I know what your saying right now as I type, " whats all the fuss about "...but at the same, I know your crying tears of Joy, for you know the Glory that awaits us.

“ Dad I wasn't ready for you to go. You left us so fast that day. Watching you breathe your last breath was so painful that it broke all of our hearts. You fought the good fight. You did all you could do. Your work here is done. No more pain and suffering. And now we will take you home and from there God will take you the rest of the way.

You will be joined by loved ones who have gone on before you. May you Rest In Peace and we will meet again someday. Dad you know what? I love you. Terry
