“ I was Bob's supervisor at Freddie Mac for quite a long time before I retired in 2008. He was really a sweet man. If he had a mean bone in his body, I never saw it. He worked on any number of necessary, but thankless jobs and always did everything well, on time, and with lots of thanks from all concerned. You would look a long time to find someone as patient and tolerant on the job as Bob.

I am very sorry to hear of his passing.

All the best to his family,

Fred Rupert

“ I, like many others at Freddie Mac, have fond memories of Bob. Mine, not so much because we worked together since we didn't. But that didn't matter to Bob. He would say hi or talk to you anyway. He was a very kind and genuine person. May your memories of Bob comfort you now and always. My thoughts and prayers go out to his family and friends.

“ It was a pleasure working with Bob at Freddie Mac and my thoughts and prayer are with his family. He was a true gentlemen and we could always count on Bob if you needed to know what was going on at the corporation. That is because he took the time to speak to everyone and listen. I last seen Bob at the Gold Cup in the Plains where I meet his wife and shared a few moments. A good man ,good memories and a good life. Rest in peace till we meet again.

“ Bob was a great person to work with. He was always willing to help and figure out ways to get things done. His insight into the happening around Freddie were always interesting and many times funny. Bob was a good soul and we will all miss him greatly.

“ Bob and Fred Webb took me under their wing when I first started working at Freddie Mac in 1989. That was quite an introduction to the way things ACTUALLY got done in the information systems world there! He was a wonderful and supportive person to work with.

“ What a charming and adorable picture of young Bob! It warms my heart and captures the essence of the kind and friendly man I worked with for so many years at Freddie Mac. The world will be a sadder and darker place without Bob. His light will be missed!

“ *Bob was my best friend! We met about 45 years ago in the U.S. Air Force and worked together off-and-on for about six years. He was always there with real solutions to all kinds of problems, yet had many difficulties of his own. He never asked for help and was always there helping others with work and personal problems. We lost touch for a few years, but once again in the mid 1980's he came to work where I worked, at Freddie Mac. Bob's outlook had not changed; he was still the cheerful problem solver, friend to everyone, asking nothing for himself. When he retired from Freddie I hoped that he and his family would be able to enjoy the freedom of retirement; however his ill health cut that short. I will miss him and know many will also miss him. On the bright side you know he now has a new audience in Heaven for his stories. Bob, 'till we meet again,
Your buddy,
Fred Webb*

“ When I think about the 17 years Bob and I worked together I guess I can sum it up by saying, Bob was always there to help with a smile on his face. It didn't matter what the problem was or how hard it was, he rolled up his sleeves and helped out. Oh and I can't forget to mention that Bob always had great sotries to go along with his visit. I can never remember working a problem with Bob that he didn't improve the situation! He will be missed!! RIP my friend.

“ We watched him fight through an auto immune sickness a number of years back and oh how we missed him during that trying time. Didn't ever think that we would be hearing of his passing so soon now as we had hoped he would be with us a little longer. Bob was such a beautiful spirit; he had a way about him that could calm and soothe the most irritated of minds. He could get you to understand the insignificance of any petty thing and look at the bigger, brighter, happier picture. Thank You Bob for bringing such joy and clarity to us, we will forever miss you!
