“ To the family of Roy Fox,
There were many things I would have liked to have said at the viewing, but my emotions got the best of me. To his sons and daughters I would just like to say that I didn't get the chance to meet you and formally introduce myself but I felt as if I already knew you through knowing your dad. Roy was a wonderful man. He took great pride in his work, but also took great pride in his family. He was a great father, grandfather, and friend to my family. I will always take great pride in knowing that I had earned the respect and love of such a remarkable man. I will never forget his smile and his charm. I was never greeted without a compliment and never left without a hug. While we all grieve from our loss I hope we can also take comfort in knowing that Roy is in heaven with those who passed before him. I smile through the sadness with the thought of his passing being God's gift of retirement. We love and miss you Roy.
