“ To "Aunt Ruby" who has been a dear friend my entire life! Your love of family, friends & God has always been an inspiration for me. I will miss our regular conversations, but will never forget the sound of your voice and the times we laughed together. I immediately thought of you after reading the following quote: "Missing someone is your heart's way of reminding you that you love them". Rest In Peace. Bootsie

*Bootsie- We all have such great memories of growing up together and learning so much from each other's parents (because we know we didn't want to listen to our own !). She enjoyed your talks always telling me how you were doing and able to reminisce about earlier times- love to you
